We must accept our portion of responsibility, too

By Chris Brown, DCC bikeways director
 (937) 299-7764; chrisbcritter520hotmail.com

In the September Spoke 'N' Link there were a couple of articles, one addressing bike lanes and the other about bikeway hazards. I would like to comment on both of these issues.

First of all, I believe it is the responsibility of city and state governments to ensure the safety of bikeways as much as possible. When mistakes are made or elements of the paths are worn or broken, such institutions need to rectify the problems and be held accountable for any accidents resulting from negligence or lack of appropriate action. However, bicyclists need to take steps to ensure their own safety as well.

In the past I've written about bikeway safety and etiquette. It seems

DCC Meeting Highlights

By Kay Wert Minardi, DCC secretary
(937) 299-2454; dccsecretary@earthlink.net

Aug. 1, 2007

The Dayton Cycling Club Board of Directors met Wednesday, Aug. 1, at the Vandalia Justice Center, 245 James Bohanan Drive, Vandalia. In attendance were directors Chris Brown, Bob and Marian Eley, Myrna Hayward, Harv Kiesel, Sally Pinnell, Michele Rizzardi, Ben VanWye, Kay Wert Minardi and Tom Wilson. DCC members Beverly Owens and Bob Pinnell also attended.

President Ben VanWye called the meeting to order at 6:32 p.m. He announced that he has been having e-mail problems and his phone number was listed incorrectly in the Spoke 'N' Link. The correct phone number is (937) 681-1039; his new e-mail address is bvanwye@bluerhinomarketing.com.

Secretary Kay Wert Minardi had no minutes to present, but said she would e-mail them to the board when they are complete.

Treasurer Michele Rizzardi said the organizers of Calvin's Challenge have indicated that they want to sell Calvin's Challenge equipment to a Columbus group that is taking over the event. The directors said they understood such desire but felt that the board should have been consulted before a sale was undertaken. It is not clear whether the sale has been completed. VanWye said he would contact Ann and John McKinley and find out what the status is concerning Calvin's Challenge equipment and any profit realized from the sale thereof.

Beverly Owens, chairwoman of the DCC's Clothing Committee, addressed the issue of the dwindling supply of club jerseys and the possibility of offering more in brighter colors. She said we are out of stock of most sizes, and she has had to turn away potential customers. Kiesel suggested offering five or six choices for the membership to vote on. The board determined that this is something the membership should be involved in.

Owens will chair a committee that will determine what color combinations to offer for a vote of the membership. Owens will compose a short article for the Spoke 'N' Link soliciting participation on the committee. Wert Minardi and Kiesel said that since they will be involved in presenting the choices and/or publishing a ballot, they would like to attend the committee meeting.

Vice President Myrna Hayward said she rode and enjoyed the Across Ohio Bicycle Adventure (XOBA). She said DCC members made up about 10 percent of the 236 participants.

Membership Director Sally Pinnell said 12 new members joined between July 8 and July 31. The current membership consists of 318 family members belonging to 127 families, 308 adults, one junior and six honorary members for a total of 633.

Pinnell added that several people have volunteered to help with the awards banquet, and we need to find a banquet chairman or -woman and get started with planning. Also, we need people to be thinking ahead about candidates for various awards given at the banquet. The board expressed its satisfaction with the Crowne Plaza Hotel as the banquet site and mid- to late February. Owens said she would look into booking the banquet, but she did not feel that she could chair the banquet committee because she is usually in Florida in February.

Webmaster Harv Kiesel said the website is up to date. He feels that some improvements could be made, but it would require changing software. He doesn't wish to do that at this point.

Bikeways Director Chris Brown said the date of the DCC Picnic was listed incorrectly on the website. He asked Kiesel to change the date to Saturday, Sept. 22.

Touring Captain Tom Wilson had nothing to report.

Huffman Spring Classic Co-Directors Marian and Bob Eley said they are already working on next year's ride, which will be May 18. They have reserved the building at Golden Gate Park that is used for the pre-ride sign-in and post-ride lunch. They plan to update the event flier to eliminate confusion about the route.

In new business, Wert Minardi pointed out that nominations for the 2008 board are due at the September business meeting. She asked the directors present to state whether they plan to run. Brown, the Eleys, Kiesel, Sally or Bob Pinnell, Rizzardi and Wilson said they will run for their current positions. Wert Minardi said she will run for newsletter editor but not secretary. Hayward and VanWye will not run for office. Wert Minardi asked all those who are running to remember to send her a paragraph or two for the "Meet the Candidates" page that will be printed on the reverse side of the ballot in the October newsletter. The deadline for the introductions is Sept. 10.

The Pinnells announced that a Performance Bike Shop opened in Greene County on July 31. The store is in the shopping center across Indian Ripple Road from The Greene. Several meeting attendees commented on how well stocked the store is.

Brown moved that the meeting be ended, and Bob Eley seconded. The board unanimously approved, and the meeting adjourned at 7:37 p.m.

The next business meeting is at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 5, at the Vandalia Justice Center. 🚲

Show your club spirit by wearing DCC apparel

The Dayton Cycling Club now has clothing available for those who want to "show their colors."

The $15 club T-shirt is a yellow 50/50 cotton/polyester blend. It features a DCC logo on the front and a large Rick Edsall color graphic on the back.

The club jersey is a four-color, wickable, breathable micro-fiber. It is green, beige and light blue on a white background. The front and back feature Wilbur Wright working on a bicycle, with the Wright Flyer in the background. The sizes run a bit small. Jerseys cost $55, plus $2.50 postage to be the time to revisit those issues. I have heard from cyclists that the bikeways are dangerous because of children, dog walkers, bollards and isolation from “the rest of the world.” All of these are valid concerns but can be alleviated fairly easily.

One solution for the first three complaints is to slow down. The bikeways are not designed for riding as fast as you can. Children, dogs and dog owners are unpredictable, and cyclists need to allow time to anticipate their actions. Bollards, while blocking automobile drivers from accidentally turning onto the bike paths, are also there to encourage cyclists, if not to stop, to at least slow down before crossing intersections.

I have witnessed numerous cyclists blow through intersections, having tried to briefly glance each way before reaching the street. This is especially true on group rides, during which a mob mentality seems to convince cyclists that they are part of one large entity, like a train, rather than individuals. Responding to someone’s shout of “Clear,” or going forward because the person in front of you did, rather than stopping and checking yourself, is putting your safety in someone else’s hands instead of your own. This is never a good idea.

One note: The DCC picnic this year, which I organized, included qualifying rides on bikeways. Having this type of ride on the bike paths obviously goes against what I have just said. For this reason, the picnic’s qualifying rides did not include “A” rides, which average 18 to 21 mph. The “B” rides average 15 to 18 mph, with the distance to be completed within five hours. It is felt that this time allotment allows for riding defensively, anticipating hazards and stopping completely when necessary.

The last issue, the seeming isolation of the bikeways in some areas, can be solved by using the buddy system. Riding with someone makes the trip fun, four eyes notice more than two, and you have someone who can help you in case of an accident. Please ride on the right and do not take up the entire path, as much as possible.

Bike lanes have a place — just not everywhere

Next, bike lanes. The article, reprinted from the Dayton Daily News, seemed to present the view that bike lanes are the greatest things since the pneumatic tube, and anyone who is against them is living in the past.

My opinion is that in downtown Dayton, bike lanes would be great, not only as a path for families riding downtown but as a permanent alternate route when the bikeways between the Keowee Street bridge and Vietnam Veterans Parkway are flooded. However, I do not believe bike lanes are the answer on every street in Dayton, the state of Ohio or the country.

The political issue is very important as well: Bicyclists do have the right to be on the road and bike lanes have the potential, in the minds of the public, to become “where cyclists ought to be.” It was only a few years ago that the city of Trotwood tried to ticket a bicyclist for “impeding the flow of traffic” because he was riding on the street.

The Ohio Bicycle Federation has been a strong leader in the “Share The Road” campaign, and it would be a shame to have those efforts undermined. The solution is for all of us to educate the public as much as we can about the role each travel venue — streets, bike lanes, bike routes and bikeways — plays in our communities.

Each of these venues has a place in our bicycling lives and lifestyle. Utilizing them safely and appropriately is the responsibility of each of us.

Take time to vote

This issue of the S’n’L includes a board election ballot. The Dayton Cycling Club has 600-plus members, but we usually are lucky if we have 40 completed ballots returned. Even though a number of board members are running unopposed, please take the time to fill out and mail your ballot. The number of votes cast helps indicate what you think of the job we’re doing!🚲

“What gets the equivalent of 1,000 mpg, doesn’t pollute, will save the world, and transports you in breezy style? Your bike.”

Clark County trail is getting better, but needs more help

By Kevin Kampman, member of the Leadership Clark County Board of Trustees
Reprinted from the summer 2007 issue of "Leadership Clark County"

We need to consider the quality of the multi-use recreational trail known as Route 1. Springfield and Clark County represent major portions of the trail that runs south from Urbana to northern Cincinnati. Segments of the trail are also known as the Little Miami Scenic Trail and the Simon Kenton Trail.

Locally, Route 1 serves as the hub for sections that branch out to C.J. Brown Reservoir and the Veterans and Snyder park areas. As it continues south, the trail uses city streets until it passes beneath Interstate 70. The trail then continues on to Xenia and points south, including Spring Valley, Corwin, Oregonia, Fort Ancient, and Mason. In Xenia it also connects to east-west routes that start in Columbus and pass through London, South Charleston, Cedarville, Xenia, Beavercreek and extend to Vandalia. Sections also reach into Dayton and Miamisburg. Each of these communities has highlighted their portion of the trail. In all, more than 250 miles of trail are connected throughout the region, and this continues to expand. The Ohio trails have a national reputation. One summer we encountered cyclists from Indiana, Texas and Georgia.

In Springfield, most of the trail uses former freight rail beds. While these are quite comfortable to ride on, they are not the most scenic portions. This represents a communitywide opportunity to address the upkeep and quality of this 10-foot-wide, 30-mile-long Clark County park. The trail serves both commuters and recreational cyclists. It will become even more valuable to the community as fuel costs increase, as we attract professionals for our hospital and high-technology industry, and as additional tourists discover this gem in our midst.

While the National Trail Parks and Recreation District (NTPRD) and others have made investments and efforts to improve the trail, this is not enough. In order to improve its reputation and serviceability, we need to reduce the amount of trash, broken glass and graffiti that mar the experience and turn people away. In Champaign County, the trail is maintained entirely by volunteers, so the fact that NTPRD doesn't have the resources to address every issue means we as a community can and have to do more.

One leadership opportunity would be for trail users to become part of a "trail sentinel" team. This would be similar to an effort started in Greene County, where "trail sentinels" identify issues and accidents and act as local guides on the trail. The team would represent the community and act as eyes and ears for the police, sheriff and park rangers. Similar groups have been started in Miami, Madison and Montgomery counties. To participate, contact the NTPRD at (937) 328-PARK (7275), or Steve Voytko at (937) 864-2320. The NTPRD also plans to place a countywide 3-mill levy on the November ballot. Your investment and support will go a long way toward keeping the NTPRD an effective contributor to the quality of life in Clark County.

Bikeway Mileage Report

Bikeway miles are those ridden on a non-listed ride, at least half of which is on a bikeway.

Qualify for the Cyclo-Path Award by accumulating 125 non-repeating miles on recreational path rides. For example, if you ride from Fifth Third Gateway Park in Beavercreek to Xenia Station and back, you would have ridden 20 bikeway miles, but only 10 of them would count toward your 125 Cyclo-Path miles.

Are you up for the ghoulishly challenging GGRR Century Route?

The Century Route is one of the most challenging in the area. Four rest stops nourish you for the approximate 5,200 feet of vertical gain. There are six significant harrowing climbs on the route.

23 Mile Escorted Family Fun Ride - 11:00 a.m.

Dress the kids (and you!) in bike-friendly Halloween costumes for this relatively flat route with only 1 hill. All Family Fun riders can join the costume contest at the rest stop...everyone wins something!! All riders must ride with the experienced GGRR ride leader. Children under 10 are NOT permitted to ride solo and must accompany a parent on a tandem or tag-a-long bike only. Preregistration required.

Start Times & Directions - All Times are Cincinnati Time (DST)!

All rides start at East Central High School in St. Leon, IN with plenty of parking. Packet pickup opens at 7:30 a.m. and you may start anytime after registration. (Food stops open at 7:30 a.m. & buffet is from 1-5 p.m.)

Directions: Take I-74 to the St. Leon Exit (#164). Go south 500 feet. Turn right on Shuman Road. East Central High School is approximately one half mile on the right at 1 Trojan Place, St. Leon, IN 47012.

Trick-or-Treat! Food Stops & After-the-Ride Refueling Session

The GGRR is well known for great food and snacks. Rest stops provide fuel for your ride with fresh water, Gatorade, fruit and snacks. Restroom facilities are at all stops.

Enjoy a delicious pasta buffet from 1-5 p.m. prepared by the East Central Family, Career, & Community Leaders Club. Buffet includes tossed salad, pasta (with or without meatballs), green beans, garlic bread, beverage and yummy homemade country dessert!!

Here's a bike tour Homer Simpson would love

By Marilyn Corbin, DCC member

In August I sent in my registration for the Tour de Doughnuts, which was to start at the Darke County Fairgrounds in Greenville on Sept. 9. It was advertised as a 30-mile race, with your riding time being decreased based on the number of doughnuts you ate at the rest stops.

There were plaques for the winners, with four groups for women: the fastest woman under age 50 without considering doughnuts, the fastest woman over 50 without considering doughnuts, the fastest woman under 50 considering doughnuts and the fastest woman over 50 considering doughnuts. Men had the same groupings.

I decided my strategy would be to eat doughnuts, since I am not a very fast rider. I also decided to carry a thermos of coffee. Also, I did not eat breakfast. I really wanted to enjoy the doughnuts, since normally I never eat them. (This year was unusual because I had two doughnuts fairly recently in honor of Homer Simpson while watching "The Simpsons Movie.")

I intended to leave early so I could have plenty of time to prepare at the race's start. That didn't happen, because my bike had a flat — on the rear wheel, no less. So I decided to try to change it and was amazed that I did it. I had to rush to the race and arrived only 20 minutes early.

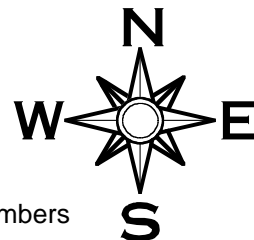

I was in the back of the pack at the start. Riding to the first rest stop, I said hello to two riders I know from Wright-Patterson Air Force Base and managed to draft. At the first rest stop, I broke open my thermos and enjoyed four doughnuts and took one "for the road." My race number was punched for each doughnut.

I got on the road again but noticed one of my gloves was missing. I returned to the rest stop but didn't spot it. (I had left it in my car.) I then figured I would have to eat a bunch more doughnuts at the next rest stop to be competitive.

So that is what I did. I ate four more doughnuts and took one "for the road." I finally had my fill and did not want to look at another doughnut. When I crossed the finish line, I heard a comment that I had eaten a ton of doughnuts. That sounded great to me. I knew I had a chance at a win.

DCC Travelogue

Descriptions of bike trips by DCC members

For every doughnut eaten, a rider had 5 minutes deleted from his or her overall time.

I came home with two plaques — one for the woman over 50 who ate the most doughnuts (the winning woman under 50 ate the same amount, with the winning men eating 13), and one for the fastest woman eating doughnuts.

The fastest woman over 50 without considering doughnut time ate only one doughnut, while the fastest woman under 50 didn't eat any. There were 107 riders and 100 dozen doughnuts.

No one wanted a doughnut at the end of the race. I didn't get sick and was not hungry for most of the day.

For a good time, sign up next year for this tour.

To become comfortable with riding on the roads, learn to ride safely in traffic

I encourage almost everyone I know to ride their bikes where they would otherwise drive their cars. This usually means riding in traffic, which many people are not comfortable doing.

I am happy to announce a course that will help make more of us more comfortable and safer when riding in traffic. The course will be offered at the Yellow Springs Library on Oct. 6 and 13. Two League of American Bicyclists-certified instructors who are also Dayton Cycling Club members will teach it. If you are interested, please e-mail me at chuck.smith@juno.com.

Good engineering makes a difference

Downtown Dayton bicycle commuters will one day face a new traffic scenario, with one-way streets becoming two-way streets and one north-south and one east-west bike lane. The Dayton city engineers are in the process of designing this project. We are providing information that will help them engineer bike lanes that are not subject to hazards such as “dooring” by parked motorists.

Great care in engineering is extremely important to our safety on two wheels. My son, Casey, working as a co-op civil engineering student from the University of Cincinnati, just completed a nice bikeway following the Miami and Erie Canal through Butler County. It is part of an “H” connector that will connect the Great Miami River Recreation Trail with the Little Miami Scenic Trail.

Commuting record within reach

I am happy to report that DCC bicycle commuters have ridden 58,714 miles through August, which is 78 percent of our record 75,394 miles set last year. The high gasoline prices are keeping us pedaling and giggling as we pass gasoline stations!

Keep us on track to beat our record by sending your September bicycle commuting miles by Oct. 2 to Dennis.L.Pohl@lexisnexus.com. Remember to include errands, appointments, trips to school and other trips during which you substituted a bicycle for a motor vehicle. Please round all figures to the closest whole number.

Be sure to fill out and sign forms at club rides

The Dayton Cycling Club carries insurance for DCC members on club rides. This is handy because if you have an accident that requires your hospitalization, your health insurance might not cover your entire hospital bill. The DCC insurance could really help in this instance.

Insurance companies, being insurance companies, really like paperwork, specifically the tour rosters. Get those forms filled out. Ride leaders who can't be at a scheduled ride should designate a couple of other riders who will bring the forms and a pen.

Contact me or Treasurer Michele Rizzardi if you need an insurance claim form or more information.

If it ain't broke, don't fix it — yet

Fall is upon us. Keep riding till winter, and save repairs and upgrades for the cold, unrideable days. Several riders I know have swapped out drive train parts, only to create shifting problems.

You won't enjoy being stuck on your much slower secondary bike because your primary bike is in the shop getting a complete drive train overhaul. This isn't a big problem in the winter, but a major bummer when there are only a few good riding weekends left.

Anybody have a recumbent for sale?

My wife, Penni, had a great time on our Washington-to-Pittsburgh bike trip, and we are planning to do it again next summer. We are also planning to drag a son along, and are looking for a recumbent for him. His biggest problem with biking is the little seat.

2 months of rides needed for next newsletter

The next Spoke 'N' Link will be a combined November/December issue, so be sure to submit rides for both months plus the first week of January by Oct. 3.

How to select a club ride

Monthly Spoke 'N' Link ride lists include an area, length and speed classification for each ride. The area column gives a general indication of where each ride starts and ends. All rides are in Ohio and are loops, unless otherwise noted.

Ride classification (Class) and length (Miles) of the ride are important considerations for riders when selecting rides to participate in. The speed classification gives a general idea of the speed riders will be expected to maintain during a ride. Ride leaders are responsible for providing maps and/or accompanying riders unfamiliar with the route.

Class average speeds

Class	Average riding speed
D	9 to 12 mph
C	12 to 15 mph
B	15 to 18 mph
A	18 to 21 mph
A+	22+ mph
O	off road
TT	time trial

Note: Average riding speed is total distance divided by total riding time. Time stopped is not included.

Defined areas

NE	North of U.S. 35 and east of I-75
NW	North of U.S. 35 and west of I-75
SE	South of U.S. 35 and east of I-75
SW	South of U.S. 35 and west of I-75
NV	North of Vandalia
SD	Sidney area
SU	Springfield/Urbana area
OA	Out of area
LN	Leader needed

Notes

Although this list is checked for errors, its accuracy is not guaranteed.

In the NOTES column, CTC means "call to confirm" and indicates that riders should call the leader prior to the ride to confirm that the ride will occur as scheduled.

In the LEADER, PHONE column, LN means a DCC member is needed to provide a tour roster at the ride listed. All area codes are 937 unless otherwise stated.

All Dayton Cycling Club rides are loops and return to the starting point unless otherwise noted. All rides are in Ohio, unless otherwise specified.

Some ride information is obtained from the Ohio Bicycle Federation's Ohio Bicycle Events Calendar. See <http://www.ohiocycling.info/> for more information on these rides.

Ride leaders: Tour rosters must be submitted to Sally Pinnell at 2474 Banyon Drive, Beavercreek 45431-2612, within 30 days of the ride. Mileage on rosters not returned on time may be forfeited.

Insurance help available for injured riders

Leaders of the pack

Part of the funds collected annually by the Dayton Cycling Club are used to purchase liability insurance. The insurance policy is specifically designed for bicycle clubs by the League of American Bicyclists and is administered by American Specialty Insurance & Risk Services Inc.

All members who sign tour rosters at advertised DCC rides are covered by accident insurance paid for by part of their annual membership fee. Note that non-members also must sign tour rosters but are not covered by the club's insurance.

At the DCC's invitational rides (Huffman Spring Classic, Wright Wride, etc.), all riders — whether they are members or not — are covered by accident insurance paid for with part of the ride registration fee.

If you are injured during a DCC ride, contact Treasurer Michele Rizzardi at (937) 890-6301 or quiltingbear2@woh.rr.com for more information about the club's insurance and to get the appropriate forms.

Can cycle tracks help us pedal out of obesity?

By Ken McCall, DCC member

Friday, Aug. 31, 2007 — Here’s a sobering statistic: Two-thirds of Americans are overweight or obese.

The cause, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in Atlanta, is simple: too much food and too little activity.

We need to be more physically active, but many of us can’t find the leisure time to do anything about it.

If we want to reduce obesity and diseases such as diabetes, stroke and cancer, says Anne Lusk, a research fellow at the Harvard School of Public Health, we need to help people make activity a part of their everyday routine.

To do that, Lusk says, people need more than trails built along rivers and bike lanes painted on streets. Lusk advocates what are called cycle tracks, separated bike trails along main thoroughfares that get people to and from important or popular destinations (work, the grocery, the ice cream store, the coffee shop) without cars.

Cycle tracks are popular in Europe and other countries where large portions of the population bike. In Odense, Denmark, for example, 50 percent of the city-center residents ride bikes.

But cycle tracks are nonexistent in the United States, Lusk says. She has co-written a booklet, “Pushing the Design Boundaries,” available at www.hsph.harvard.edu/healthdesign, that shows how they work.

“The recreation paths are great,” she says, “but if we can only use them Saturday morning by driving our car there with our bike rack, we will not be a healthier population, because we are not engaging in routine physical activity five to seven days a week.”

Bike lanes also help get people onto bikes, she says, but they require riders to know and obey all the rules of the road.

Lusk spent the summer studying bike paths around the country, and says some of the most popular bike trails are even becoming unsafe for kids, walkers and slower riders, because they’re so popular with faster touring cyclists.

“If you bike with a child, you put them on a tandem bicycle,” she said of people on the high-traffic trails. “They’re not on a little bicycle because they weave side to side, and they could get run over by a faster touring bicyclist.”

If we want to reduce obesity and chronic diseases, she says, we need places for everyone to get out — every day.

Lusk is familiar with experienced cyclists who insist that bike lanes are unsafe and would rather have the money spent on replacing drain grates and installing share-the-road signs.

“It’s the skinny white guys,” she says. “And I adore the skinny white guys, but if we only provide on-road bike facilities, including bike lanes and recreation paths, we’ll never have greater than 1 percent of the ride share in biking.”

Much less the numbers in Odense and other cities.

“That’s not to say everybody has to bike,” she says. “You yourself might not bike. But imagine if all your friends and neighbors bike. It would lessen the demand for the road. It would lower smog and pollution and congestion.”

It would make people healthier and happier, too.
